Very Important Notes – Please read them all

- Aplia seems to only work if you pay with your credit card while still in the United States. So if you plan to travel outside the country sometime during the course, make sure you pay for Aplia online before you leave the country. You might be able to pay with PayPal.

- Bookstore and Canvas: There is nothing to buy in the bookstore for this course and we are not on Canvas, other than to redirect you to our course website.

- You pay your tuition for taking this course to Cornell School of Continuing Education separately. The Aplia course-site is not included in that payment to Cornell.
