(ECON/SOC/INFO 204)

Spring 2008, Mon-Wed-Fri
11:15-12:05

David Easley and Jon Kleinberg

A course on how the social, technological, and natural worlds are connected, and how the study of networks sheds light on these connections. Topics include: how opinions, fads, and political movements spread through society; the robustness and fragility of food webs and financial markets; and the technology, economics, and politics of Web information and on-line communities.
